INTERMEDIATE MODERN GREEK LANGUAGE AND CULTURE II GRKMV1202 4 pts.

Toby Lee TR 11:00am-12:50pm

This second semester course is designed for students who have taken the first semester course V 1201 or the equivalent.

Students are also required to take the conversation class, GRKMW1212.

INTERMEDIATE MODERN GREEK CONVERSATION-GRKMW1212. 1pt.

Kathryn Stergiopoulos F 11:00am-11:50am

COMPARATIVE DIASPORAS AND TRANSLATION. CPLS G6111. 3pts.

Karen Van Dyck and Brent Edwards T 2:10pm-4pm

This seminar will focus on the theory and practice of translation from the perspective of comparative diaspora studies. We will look at key scholarship on diaspora that has emerged over the past two decades focusing on the central issue of language in relation to migration, uprooting, and imagined community, especially with regard to the literature of the African and Greek diasporas.

TOPICS IN GREEK FILM. GRKMV3135. 3pts.

Erato Basea M 6:00pm-10:00pm

This course addresses a wide range of fields from film theory and aesthetics to cultural studies and history, exploring questions of film style, transnational and cosmopolitan filmmaking practices, national industries and audience reception. We will begin by discussing recent debates in film studies about transnational and peripheral cinemas before proceeding to the case of films that are either produced in Greece or are about Greece.

THE WORLD RESPONDS TO THE GREEKS: GREECE FACES EAST. CLGMV3920. 3pts.

Christine Philiou (TA: TBA) T 1:00pm-2:50pm

This course is an antidote to Contemporary Civilization and Literature Humanities, considering the real, imagined, and forgotten ways that "Greece" was connected to the "East," from antiquity to the present, rather than the ways Greek culture and thought paved the way to "Western Civilization." The course fulfills the Global Core requirement.

SENIOR RESEARCH SEMINAR. GRKMV3998. 4pts.

Vangelis Calotychos T 11:40am-1:30pm

This course is primarily designed for students writing a senior thesis or undertaking advanced research on modern Greece or Greek Diaspora topics in all disciplines.
